COMPANY OVERVIEW

Fornacity, LLC is a female, minority owned disaster recovery consulting firm that specializes in the recovery of all natural disasters. We provide consulting, program management, and technical support to the federal government. Our focus is to work with prime and subprime contractors to supply expertise in emergency management for FEMA's Individual and Public Assistance programs.

Before and after the disaster, we're here to provide communities the experienced advice and guidance needed to prepare, respond, and recover as quickly as possible. Fornacity is committed to help rebuild the lives of individuals and communities with fortitude and tenacity.
